

Charges Grand Larceny And Forgery In Census

Commissioner Le Boeuf Recommends Criminal Action Against Mrs. Knapp and Four Other Persons—Charges $118,707 Comprised Illegal Disbursements and $79,125 Waste—Whereabouts of Mrs. Knapp Surrounded In Mystery.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 23 (P).—Charged specifically with forgery, grand larceny, and other criminal offenses, Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, Syracuse, member of the faculty of Syracuse University, former secretary of state, and only woman ever elected to state office in New York, was an investigation by the grand jury. The accusations against her, and the recommendation that criminal proceedings be instituted were contained in the report submitted to Governor Smith by Randall J. Le Boeuf, Jr., who, as a commissioner under the Moreland Act, investigated the administration by Mrs. Knapp, at that time secretary of state, of the state census of 1925.

In addition to allegations of forgery and grand larceny, Mrs. Knapp is charged by Commissioner Le Boeuf with false audit and certification and with illegal removal of state records.

Criminal Action Recommended. Criminal action against four other persons connected with the census was also recommended by Mr. Le Boeuf. The persons named by him as having violated either the penal code or the legislative law are Mark Stern, of Schenectady, deputy secretary of state under Mrs. Knapp and her successor, Robert Moses; Anna A. Little, of Albany, auditor in the secretary of state's office; Julia M. Ryan of Albany, chief clerk of the State Civil Service Commission, and Dr. Walter Laidlaw, of New York, head of the Cities Census Committee, Inc., an employee of the state census bureau.

Laidlaw Did Not Register. Dr. Laidlaw is charged with violation of the legislative code by acting as a legislative agent or lobbyist, without having registered at the office of the secretary of state as required by the legislative law. Dr. Laidlaw preferred the charges against Mrs. Knapp which resulted in the investigation.

Mark Stern, who was in charge of the census payrolls, certified salary payments to persons he knew rendered no services, among them his own daughter, according to the report. The deputy secretary cashed checks for Mrs. Knapp bearing the endorsement of payees when he knew it was physically impossible for the payees to have endorsed the checks in person.

Anna Little is accused of certification of expense accounts which she never had no relation to the census work. Julia Ryan is charged with falsifying certification to the comptroller the names of 149, or virtually one-quarter of the census employees, as having been approved by the Civil Service Commission. Relatives of Miss Little and Miss Ryan received substantial salaries from the census funds, but according to the evidence, performed no services for the census.

Seven Relatives on Payroll. The names of seven of Mrs. Knapp's relatives were on the census payroll, and a total of more than $25,000 in salaries was paid on their account. With the exception of William T. Palmer of Bedford, Mass., who occasionally washed windows at the Albany office of the census and frequently acted as Mrs. Knapp's chauffeur, none of them are known to have done any census work. All of them are now outside the state.

Mary Bodkin, a sister, to whom checks aggregating $4,515 were issued, is believed to be living in New Bedford, Mass. Charles H. Smith, a brother, formerly principal of the high school at Horrell, but now living somewhere in Massachusetts, was credited with salary payments of $4,700, and his wife with $2,420. A total of $2,319 in checks was made payable to Mrs. Knapp's father, an octogenarian, and $3,560 to Julia A. Smith, Mrs. Knapp's sister, formerly a nurse at Syracuse. Clara Blanche Knapp, a stepdaughter, a teacher at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., was the payee named in checks totaling $3,581. Commissioner Le Boeuf endeavored to have Mrs. Knapp testify, but she did not reply to his letter, and when he sent an associate to Middlebury to talk with her she disappeared from that town, the report said.

The commissioner in his report placed the total disbursements at $1,199,902.57, of which sum he charged $118,707.75 comprised illegal disbursements and $79,125.25, wasteful disbursements.

Responsibility on Mrs. Knapp. "Not only the improper use of the state funds in all of the cases may be traced directly to Mrs. Knapp," he wrote, "but she alone must bear the full responsibility for the careless, inefficient and wasteful methods of handling the work itself."

The evidence shows, Mr. Le Boeuf specifically with forgery, grand larceny, and other criminal offenses, Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, Syracuse, member of the faculty of Syracuse University, former secretary of state, and only woman ever elected to state office in New York, was an investigation by the grand jury.

Found Dead on Bushkill Road

Harvey B. Barnes, 55 years old, was found dead Sunday morning shortly before noon on the Bushkill road at West Shokan. The body, which was lying in the roadway, was found by Lauren Hesley and Edward Van Kleek, coroner. Conner was notified and he went to the scene where he conducted the investigation. In the pockets of the dead man were found his watch and papers indicating that there had been no foul play. Further investigation showed that Mr. Barnes had died of cerebral hemorrhage. The body was turned over to Undertaker Victor N. Lasher at Woodstock.

Mr. Barnes is survived by his wife, Oma Tilson Barnes; one son, Robert of West Shokan; two brothers, Walter P. of Kingston and Clair of Kings Park, L. I.; two sisters, Mrs. Andrew P. Avery and Mrs. Ezra Green, both of West Shokan. Funeral from the West Shokan Baptist Church, Wednesday at 2 p. m. Interment in Tongora cemetery.

Grangers May Get Fifth Degree Here

A special meeting of Ulster County Poconos Grange to confer the fifth degree on Ulster county Grange members who wish to receive the sixth degree at the State Grange meeting at Poughkeepsie, February 9, will be held at the court house, Wall street, Monday, January 20 at 7:30 p. m. The fifth degree will also be conferred at the Clintonville Grange on Tuesday, January 21. It is necessary that the fifth degree be received before the sixth can be conferred and it is expected that many will wish to have the honor of taking the latter at the State Grange meeting. Worthy Deputy J. W. Weaver will confer the fifth degree by order of H. V. Story, master, and M. B. Brink, secretary.

Boeuf wrote that Mrs. Knapp willfully allowed and presented claims which she knew were false in whole or in part.

"When there is coupled with this series of false and illegal certification," he continued, "the fact that Mrs. Knapp, her relatives and others close to her, profited thereby, it seems plain that she was actuated by a deliberate and criminal intent to defraud the state."

Civil Service Breakdown. The report devotes considerable space to what is characterized by Commissioner Le Boeuf as "the breakdown of the Civil Service Commission."

"The usual opportunity for illegal and dishonest payments afforded by the census should have put the commission on its guard," he reported. "The judgment and discretion within the state has the right to expect from such a body, and pay well for lack of it. Their approval was given to Mrs. Knapp's irregular appointments as freely as Julia M. Ryan stamped false certificates on the payrolls."

"The commission as a whole failed to function properly. That judgment and administrative discretion which is to be expected of the commissioners themselves was lacking. The honesty and integrity which was necessary in the approval of the payrolls by employees also was wanting."

Mr. Le Boeuf recommended that either the Civil Service Commission be abolished altogether or it be reorganized under one commissioner who gives full time to his duties instead of three members, as at present constituted.

"Shoddy Legislation." The report criticized the office of the comptroller for laxness in the matter of approving payrolls. It also took the Legislature to task for the form in which the act authorizing the census was passed.

"It is a plain case of shoddy legislation," he said. "The Legislature itself must bear some of the blame for the census fiasco."

Criticism for Gleason. LaFayette B. Gleason, secretary of the Republican State Committee, appointed by Mrs. Knapp as chief enumeration supervisor, was criticized by Commissioner Le Boeuf on the ground that he was aware that some persons on the census payrolls were not doing any work, but did not insist that either they work or be removed from the list of employees.

Mr. Gleason, the report states, received $1,520 of the census funds for the use of his automobile.

Mrs. Knapp Was In Boston Sunday

Boards New York-Bound Train but Could Not Be Located Upon Arrival of Train—Governor and Dr. Laidlaw Silent.

New York, Jan. 23 (P).—The whereabouts of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of New York state, was surrounded in mystery today as Governor Smith had under consideration a report of her administration of the 1925 state census which charged her with forgery, grand larceny and other criminal offenses.

The report was submitted to the Governor by Randall J. Le Boeuf, Jr., appointed by the Governor to investigate charges of maladministration in connection with taking of the census. The report recommended a good investigation.

Mrs. Knapp, the only woman ever elected to state office in New York, and a member of the faculty of Syracuse University, left Syracuse Sunday morning, a few hours before the report was made public.

Upon arriving in Boston, Mrs. Knapp at first denied her identity to reporters. Later after answering a few questions, she boarded a New York-bound train, but could not be located upon the arrival of the train in this city. Inquiry among Mrs. Knapp's relatives in Dedford, Mass., developed no information as to her whereabouts.

The election of Mrs. Knapp in 1925 was widely hailed as a victory for women in politics and when Mrs. Knapp went to Albany to assume office she said she would be the best to show what a woman could do in office. Mrs. Knapp was born in Syracuse and is a direct descendant of Ebenezer Hancock, a brother of John Hancock, while her husband, Philip Schuyler Knapp, who died in 1915, was a descendant of the Revolutionary general, Philip Schuyler.

At Syracuse University, where Mrs. Knapp is dean of the college of home economics, a position she assumed upon expiration of her term as secretary of state, it was announced that a special committee of the board of trustees had been considering Mrs. Knapp's case. Chancellor Charles Wesley Flint said the policy of the institution has been to suspend judgment pending completion of the investigation.

Governor Smith at his executive offices in the Biltmore Hotel declined to comment on the report and would give no indication of what action he would take.

Dr. Walter Laidlaw, who originally brought the charges against Mrs. Knapp, and was charged in the commissioner's report with violation of the legislative code in acting as a lobbyist, without having registered at the office of the secretary of state likewise declined to make any comment.

1,000 U. S. Marines Move to Attack Sandino Forces

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 23 (P).—Marine reinforcements numbering 1,000 men, today were en route to the state of Nueva Segovia to take the field against Augustino Sandino, rebel leader, now operating in that region.

Mountain batteries, artillery, in fact everything necessary to carry on modern warfare to dislodge the Sandino followers from their mountain fastness where they have been harassing marine outposts, were taken along.

The marines left Leon yesterday on foot trails which must be made on foot through mountains and jungles to northern Nicaragua. The march will require at least eight days. The long columns of troops furnished an imposing spectacle for Nicaraguans who were especially interested in the big American trucks which recently were disembarked at Managua and were brought to Leon.

Nicaraguan government authorities have received reports that a considerable number of men from the east coast have been passing the Acrograph headwaters of the Rama river on their way to join Sandino's forces. These men, according to this report, are armed with rifles, formerly owned by the government.

Adams Case in Hands of Jury

Negro, on Trial in County on Charge of Robbery, Denies He Had Pocketbook Which He Is Accused of Stealing.

Samuel Adams, charged with robbery, first degree, as a second offender, took the witness stand this morning in county court and told his story of what happened on October 25, 1924, at Eva Williams's place on East Union street when it is alleged a pocketbook of one Laftad was taken by Adams and later restored minus considerable money. Adams testified he never took the pocketbook and denied that he had left the place only to be stopped by another colored man on the street and have the pocketbook taken away from him as several witnesses had testified.

Adams told of being at the place when the four white boys arrived and of consequent happenings. He said he never took the pocketbook and the only one he saw have it that night was "Black Ace" McDaniel.

"Black Ace" looked into the pocketbook, according to Adams, and then took the pocketbook back into the room. Adams said there had been a game of craps and Laftad had had an argument over change and the game broke up. At that point he thought it was a good time to leave and went to get his hat. He started downstairs. He did not see "Black Ace" as he went out. On the stairs he saw another man who went down ahead of him. In the street he saw it was Roscoe Benson. "Black Ace" was in the street when he came out and had evidently gone out while he was getting his hat. He was not stopped and no one took the pocketbook away from him.

Previous witnesses had testified that "Black Ace" followed Sam down stairs and took the pocketbook away from him on the street and that it had been restored to Eva who gave it in turn to Laftad.

Adams denied he had ever had the pocketbook in his hands.

There were no questions by The People and after city court records were offered by the defendant in an effort to show convictions against a witness called by The People, the defendant rested and at 11 o'clock the case was closed and the summation taken up.

Chris J. Flanagan summed up for the defendant and District Attorney Traver for The People.

Crowd Expected at C. of C. Banquet

Harry Collins Spillman to Be Principal Speaker at Annual Banquet at Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday Night—Local Entertainment Provided.

As time draws near for the holding of the Chamber of Commerce Annual Membership Meeting, it becomes increasingly evident that a wise choice has been made in the selection of the speaker for that occasion. Harry Collins Spillman was the speaker last year and his address was so much to the point, so instructive and so splendidly delivered that there was an immediate demand for a return engagement.

Only a few weeks ago Mr. Spillman spoke before the Troy Chamber of Commerce and last Thursday he was the speaker for the Newburgh Chamber of Commerce annual meeting.

This last engagement was made largely upon the recommendation of the Kingston office. Secretary C. W. Adams was a guest at this meeting. The same time impression was made by Mr. Spillman at Newburgh and Troy as he made here a year ago. At the close of the Newburgh meeting the audience gathered around the speaker in a mass, eager to meet him personally, in order to express their appreciation.

Indications point to a fine attendance at the meeting Tuesday night which will take place at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 8:45 o'clock.

An unusual musical program will be heard during the evening through the courtesy of E. Winter's Sons. Selections will be given by Paul Whitteman and his famous orchestra, the members of the Ever-ready Hour entertainers and other equally famous and popular artists.

This program will be produced, not in person, but by the Victor Electro and all who attend are promised a splendid entertainment by this feature on the program.

Aside from the address of the evening there will be very little speaking on the part of others.

President E. Frank Flanagan will make a few remarks upon the work of the Chamber, also he has some observations to make upon the future of the organization as he sees it in the light of a two years' close-up experience as a director and officer.

His remarks will be brief but should carry much of weight and be of practical value to the members of the Chamber and to those other citizens of the community who have not yet become actively associated with the Chamber.

Tickets can be obtained from Sam Bernstein, Jr., Morton Low, Monroe Southard, James A. Dwyer or at the Chamber's office. Phone in for reservation at once so that proper seating arrangements can be made.

Gleason Silent On Census Report

New York, Jan. 23 (P).—Col. LaFayette B. Gleason, director of the state census bureau, today declined to discuss Commissioner R. J. Le Boeuf's recommendation for criminal action against Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, for maladministration of the 1925 state census.

"I have not seen the full report," he told the Associated Press, "and until I have more than newspaper abstracts I shall have nothing to say. Thus far I cannot see that Mr. Le Boeuf has adduced any evidence to show that any of the alleged irregularities are connected with me."

Colonel Gleason for many years has been secretary of the state Republican committee.

Club Federation Members Listen to Reports and Music

Largely Attended and Interesting Meeting Held on Saturday—Advocate Clubs Report Their Activities—Crystal Ball Talks on and Illustrates Negro Spirituals.

An excellent and well attended meeting of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs on Saturday afternoon in response to the invitation issued by The Cotterie, the entertaining club to the women of Kingston to hear Crystal Ball talk about "Negro Spirituals" and their former "Spirits" illustrating the talk with the singing of many of the spirituals.

There was a large delegation from the Business Girls' club of the Y. W. C. A. for Miss Bird is the national secretary or leader of the colored Girl Reserves. Many representative colored women of Kingston were present and there was also a group of women from Saugerties and the Schoharie Monday Club who had come down to hear the national program, which was presented by the quarterly business meeting of the General Federation.

Reports of Affiliated Clubs.

Following the reports of the secretaries, Mrs. Clara Norton Reed, and the treasurer Miss Edith Holmes, the president, Mrs. Edgar N. Palen, presiding, very brief reports were given by the affiliated clubs as follows:

Mrs. Lawton of the Monday Club reported having finished the course of eight lectures on "China" given by Mr. Lester Textor of Nassau, and the resumption of regular weekly club meetings with papers by the members, China being the topic of study.

The Lowell Club, Mrs. Adams, president, reported as its subject this year, "Twentieth Century Studies," which was proving interesting and profitable.

"Modern Biography" is the study subject of the Atherton Club as stated by Mrs. Dunbar.

The Cotterie told of studying with pleasure and profit, "The Shrine of Seaside," and also that they had made quite a contribution of fruit and jelly.

Home, Mrs. Monroe is the president. "Current Events" are occupying the attention of Sorosis members, who had pleasantly cooperated with the Twentieth Century Club in securing Miss Lyon of Albany to give two talks on "Current Events," reported Mrs. Lusher.

The Twentieth Century Club members Mrs. Coe reported, were finding "World Leaders of Today," a most interesting subject of study and despite their appreciation of the privilege of cooperating with Sorosis in the two lectures given by Miss Lyon.

Miss Burhan, president of the School Women's Club, stated that plans were being made for a dinner with noted speaker, As Miss club meets but three times a year, she is little to report between meetings.

T. B. Seal Sale and Health.

The standing committees reported after the clubs. Dr. Day for the public health committee stated that she had little to say further on the subject of the Tuberculosis Seal Sale than had been given in the minutes of the last executive committee meeting, other than to urge that every envelope of seals be accounted for with utmost speed. A letter just received from George J. Neibach, executive secretary of the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, contained an invitation to attend the semi-annual meeting and conference of the State and Local Committees in connection with the Third New York Health Conference in New York city, at the Hotel Roosevelt, Thursday and Friday, February 23 and 24, and Dr. Day said that she expected to attend the conference. It was her ambition to be able to give a full report of the Ulster County Seal Sale at that time. In connection with the public health work which must engage the attention of New York state, and should especially interest the women was that of the very high maternal mortality. The statement had been made by Sir George Newman, Chief Medical Officer of the Ministry of Health of England and Wales, that the present maternal mortality in America is higher than among any other civilized nation on the earth, and is twice that of Great Britain.

Dr. Day considered an urgent duty resting upon all, especially those interested in the promotion of health and social welfare, to make New York state at least safe for motherhood, which would constitute a major factor in the protection of infants and young children. The Junior League in the city has been engaged in the child problem, providing a special health nurse, but to date they had not been able to accomplish as much as they should because of the lack of cooperation in the community.

Report on Membership.

Miss Healy, chairman of the membership committee reported sixty individual members, 41 of whom had paid their dues, with 19 still neglected to pay their dues.

Attend Commemorative Meeting.

Mrs. C. N. Reed, chairman of the good government committee, called attention to the utility of complaining over the high tax rate after the matter had been settled beyond official protest and without any particular scrutiny into the cause of the tax.

John and George, small sons of a Baptist minister, after listening to one of their father's sermons, decided that they must baptize their family of cats. The kittens made no objection. One by one they were put in the big tub of water.

But when it came to the mother cat, she rebelled—and fought—and scratched—until at last John remarked: "Just sprinkle her, George, and let her go to hell."

Breed Songsters
A recent visitor to the canary breeding region of Germany reports shoe-makers and tailors as the largest breeders of the feathered songsters. Despite the rising demand for canaries and the increased breeding activity in Germany as a result of the use of bird cages in America for decorative effects, these trades have maintained their leadership over farmers, peasants, housewives and other tradesmen, all of whom breed canaries as a sideline. German shoemakers and tailors carry on their work in their homes and are able to be with their birds all hours of the day.

Rye Long Used as Food
The nativity of rye appears to have been in the region between the Black sea and the Caspian. Its culture has been chiefly in the north, and, though ancient, is not of the highest antiquity. It bears more cold than any other grain, thrives on light and otherwise barren soils and can be grown continuously on the same spot. It is most extensively grown in central and northern Europe, where it forms the almost exclusive breadstuff of large populations. It is less nutritious than wheat, though in that respect standing next to it.

Torrid or Temperate?
The geography lesson was concerning the earth's temperature zones. The teacher asked whether some one could tell her what a zone was. Bernice, eager to display her knowledge, waved her hand. The teacher called on her for the answer. Imagine the teacher's surprise when her confident pupil arose and said: "A zone is a place where you can park your car."

Going Too Far

A city magnate the other day summoned his manager.

"Look here, Robinson," said he. "You'll have to talk to that new fellow, Jones, you took on as shorthand typist."

"Why, what's the matter with him?" said Robinson. "I know he stutters rather badly, but you said—"

"I said I didn't mind that, but look at this." The magnate held out a letter which read: "In reference to yours of the eighth ult."

Then he continued: "Stuttering on the typewriter I simply won't stand."

In "Up the Years From Bloomsbury," the actor, George Arliss, tells of meeting in Boston a delighted old lady, Mrs. Bell, who was then eighty-four.

"I met her at many gatherings. No dinner party in which she was included was ever dull. She generally kept everyone in peals of laughter and I never heard her repeat herself. She lived in a small house with a small back garden. For a time she kept a pig in the yard and when asked why on earth she kept it, she said: 'Well, we must have something to eat things in.'"

DOMINICAN SISTERS PRAISE FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

"FOR COLDS AND BODY BUILDING IT DOES A WORLD OF GOOD," THEY WRITE.

The Dominican Sisters of St. Dominic Monastery, La Crosse, Wisconsin have found that for treating and preventing colds and building up the aged and sickly, Father John's Medicine is so effective that they have used it daily for many years.

Following is part of a letter from the Mother Prioress:—

"We have found out that there is nothing better than Father John's Medicine for colds, or building up the body. It always helps our weak or delicate sisters, and those who have colds soon recover and grow stronger. We cannot praise Father John's Medicine too highly. We cheerfully recommend it for colds and as a body builder and hope that all who use it may obtain the same wonderful results as we do; it does a world of good."

These good sisters know that they can take Father John's Medicine with confidence as it is absolutely free from alcohol and dangerous drugs. For 70 years it has won similar tributes of praise as the safe family medicine for colds and body building.

Prohibition may not be debated as many centuries as capital punishment, the contrariety of opinion on which latter subject dates back as far as and doubtless farther than Cain and Julius Caesar. But the conflicting rhetoric on January 17, the day after prohibition's eighth birthday, tends to convey the impression that

We read that the Chicago Y. W. C. A. is going to teach young women the whole science of successful marriage in ten lessons, the course covering "married happiness on $15.00 a year, avoidance of divorce, contented breakfasts, and how to welcome the husband at dinner time." Of course it is too soon to get figures as to how many graduates lived happy ever after.

ROSES IN POLITICS.

Some people say that women don't cut much of a figure in politics. Woman suffrage, according to that view, hasn't amounted to much. But you get a different slant on the subject from the story of how the Republican convention happened to go to Kansas City. There were 42 women among the 702 delegates who gathered at Washington and picked the convention city. The representatives of all the contesting cities were using what strategy they could. The Kansas City people, according to their own confession, adopted this strategy:

They concentrated on the women delegates and sent each of them, every day the committee was in session, two dozen American Beauty roses, with the compliments of Kansas City. The women, of course, liked the roses. They appreciated the fact that it was lovely of Kansas City. The idea grew on them that a city which thought enough of them to send them roses at that time would take pretty good care of the women who attended the big convention. So when it came to vote, 34 of those 42 women voted for Kansas City and thereby gave it the convention.

Now you may say that, after all, it was masculine strategy which produced the result. The fact remains that the strategists felt obliged to make their appeal to feminine taste, and the women got what they wanted—as usual. They are likely enough to have the same sort of luck in many a more weighty matter of national politics.

"HOWSTON" AND "HEWSTON."

Referring to "the Texas insistence on calling the city of Houston 'Howston'" (their capital wherein the next Democratic national convention is to be held), the New York Times says: "If the pronunciation of names were decided by majority vote, the future home of the harmony of the Democratic party would doubtless be called 'Howston.' In the best manner of New Yorkers who have a street which they thus pronounce." The Times further states that "the pronunciation was not invented by the Texans," but was employed by General Sam Houston, President of the republic of Texas (of Virginian birth and Tennessee rearing), after whom the Texas capital was named, and who lived until 1863. "Those who knew him and his family," says the Times, "vouch for the fact that 'Howston' was his own pronunciation of his name. Hence they cling to it with loyalty and pride, and endeavor to convert the ignorant outsiders to the correct method of saying it."

The Times's editorial note conveys the impression that the "Howston" pronunciation is confined to Texas, but this is a mistake. Although New Yorkers call their street, and Georgians call their county, "Howston," Pennsylvania University's Houston Hall is pronounced "Howston" by all Philadelphians, and no doubt other examples of both "Howston" and "Houston" could be found in different parts of the United States.

PROHIBITION'S BIRTHDAY.

STIMULATING THE BILE FLOW.

One of the unsolved points about that little sack called the gall bladder, is just how it empties itself. It has an mouth like opening that allows the bile to flow out, and then closes again.

It has been thought that some special impulse was sent to this point which stimulated it to open. Also that the muscle in the walls of the gall bladder contracted and forced the bile forward into intestine. Research men in Cleveland, Chicago, the Mayo Clinic, and elsewhere, are working most faithfully on this apparently simple matter of the causation of the flow of bile from the gall bladder.

One point they have discovered as mentioned before, was that when food was administered, especially food of a fatty nature such as egg yolk and cream mixture, that the gall bladder appeared to empty rapidly.

In one of the experiments by the use of a tube inside and pressure over the gall bladder from the outside, this pressure was sufficient to drive some of the bile out of gall bladder to intestine.

Now what does this little bit of information mean to you? That any pressure over the liver and gall bladder will stimulate action in the gall bladder and some bile will flow into intestine. And you will remember all that the bile does while there; breaks up the fats, stimulates the sides of the intestine to move the contents along, and is a natural antiseptic.

But the point I want to stress is that this outside pressure stimulates the flow.

And how can you exert this pressure?

By using the old liver squeezer exercise, which is simply standing with feet together. Knees straight, and reaching down first to right side with right hand flat closed, left hand curling under left armpit; then bending to left side reaching down right armpit. A good point is to let the fists scrape against sides of body as they go up and down. If this is done fifteen to twenty times each side, two or three times a day, it will stimulate the gall bladder to action, and the liver also.

It will be a great investment for the time and effort spent.

Black Velvet Is Again Much Used

Fabric Is Pleasing and Supplies Desired Simplicity and Charm.

Black velvet has been the most popular fabric of the day for some time. It is so because of its simplicity and charm. It is so because of its simplicity and charm. It is so because of its simplicity and charm.

The dresses that are suited to more formal occasions in black are created in black velvet, black lace and black satin. The vogue of black, in its renewed smartness has brought a note of happiness to the fall and winter season, for the well-dressed American woman delights in wearing black.

Frock of Black Velvet Designed Along New and Youthful Lines.

The dresses that are suited to more formal occasions in black are created in black velvet, black lace and black satin. The vogue of black, in its renewed smartness has brought a note of happiness to the fall and winter season, for the well-dressed American woman delights in wearing black.

Black velvet has become particularly the vogue in its new transparency. It is very perishable, but very lovely and is especially suited to the draped movement so much used in the newer gowns.

Brilliant fabrics of shining beauty are much used in combination with black velvet and form effective blouses, trappings, vests and new uses that make black an outstanding feature of the mode.

All black, of course, has its charms. In simple, but distinctive lines, it lends distinction to any appearance. With the side drapings and unusual sleeve effects, black is particularly successful. Where the formal dinner-gown is worn without sleeves, black again comes into its own. The charm of rosy flesh and black velvet has long been realized. This season it gains in popular appeal through the delightful methods of smart lines that create a slender silhouette, yet possess a distinct flare.

The bolero that possesses such an air of youth is again in evidence and is particularly well adapted to the black velvet frock. It gives the opportunity to combine other colors and fabrics, too, and so lends variety to the mode.

Ann Rork, the featured motion-picture player, who chooses her clothes with excellent taste, has selected an especially smart outfit, embracing the newer ideas in the mode in a scene from the film, "A Texas Steer." It is of black velvet, designed along new and youthful lines, with a bolero effect featured in a charming frock of the new black velvet.

Unique Ring May Also Be Worn as a Pendant

A new ring that may be worn as a pendant has made its appearance. The setting is a cameo, but for variety three different sizes are used. In some models the cameo is backed with black onyx cut to show just a rim outlining the silhouette of the cameo. The points of the mounting are of white gold, adjustable so that they may be moved upward to form a halo about the head of the cameo and yet serve as a loop when worn as a pendant on the necklace which is sold with the ring. The necklaces are either a short string of pearls with a white gold ornament in front and underneath it a tiny loop to which the cameo is attached or semi-precious drops worn when the cameo is used as a ring.

Oak Floors in Colors Add Beauty to Home

People today appreciate the floors of their homes as more than something to walk on, a mere separation between the first story and the second. Just as they know that a room is more than an inclosure of four walls, and that a house is one thing, a home another. The difference is made up of all the thought and care put into arrangement, fittings, decorations—all the livable and intimate appointments that make "home."

Your floors are really the foundation of room decoration, enhancing the beauty of furniture and hangings. Harmonious color treatment of the room as a whole is now made possible with the new modern finishes, which may be selected to suit individual taste. Imagine the dignity of a library paneled in oak, with oak flooring in "weathered" finish, the harmony of a dining room in tones of gray and blue, with darker gray oak flooring, or the charm of an inclosed sun porch with floor finished in forest green, light and cheery—a bit of outdoors brought into the home. The opportunity of choice is infinite, and each room may reflect your own individuality, your floor becoming your very own, different from others about you.

FLAT FURS, SUCH AS ASTRAKHAN AND SEAL TRIM CLOTH COATS

FUR-TRIMMED cloth coats are hitting the high spots of the mode this season. The term fur-trim "doesn't mean anything" until one sees the coats themselves, and then—well, it means so much of daring originality and unusualness one gets a thrill of "something different" at every turn of the mode.

Of course the long-haired furs are sumptuous and very decorative and good style, but for pure unalloyed chic the flat furs are carrying a tremendous share of the honors. Stylists are paying attention to the fashioning of many of the newest coats to such furs as heaver, caracul, krimmer, astrakhan, shaved lamb, seal, registering intriguing novelty in spotted effects which feature calf, zebra, leopard and other curious pelts.

Not all the novelty interest, however, centers in the furs and the materials they trim, for in their styling every tricky little device is introduced that imagination can conjure. As an example of artful fashioning note the cuff of gray astrakhan on the clever coat of English cloaking to the right in this picture. What a clever touch the buckle and belt of cloth imparts to the deep fur cuff! The long stole collar of seal on the other coat with its matching cuffs also interprets the best and the newest in fur trimmings.

Perhaps it may add to your enthusiasm to know that these dainty coats are being worn these cool autumn days by two of Hollywood's most charming screen artists, Aileen Fringie (to right) and Dorothy Sebastian. "Nuff said" when it comes to identifying them as "last word" styles.

Speaking of fashionable flat furs, have you seen the latest—moleskin dyes a dainty beige to match the suede-finished cloth which it trims?

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Jeweled Birds and Fish Have Tails or Fins of Bright Feathers, and in Design Are Identical With the Brooches Displayed Along the rue de la Paix.

Paris—Among the newest hat ornaments to make their debut in Paris are those in the form of birds or fish, tiny affairs of marcasite or rhinestones with the addition of glowing feathers for tail or fin, as the case may be. They are really charming, and, like so many batpins, are replicas of jeweled brooches such as one seen in the great jewelry shops along the rue de la Paix. The use of the actual feather, even though it is a wisp, instead of the bright enamel that introduces the color in the brooches, is a clever idea and one that is worth following. Another design in these charming ornaments is that of a diminutive Indian head with feather head-dress.

There are also all sorts of lovely marcasite and other jeweled ornaments being worn on gowns, as a substitute for the shoulder flower, and at the belt. One design is a fleur de lys, another a rose, with the jeweled petals enclosing a single pearl or a colored stone, preferably the latter. The present fad is for colored stones rather than pearls, although the novelty jewelry success of the year is crystal.

To carry out the ensemble idea, some of the makers of costume jewelry in Paris are bringing out novelties in the palest pink coral, a tone in beautiful accord with the faint pink launched by Vionnet and exploited by her followers. Pale coral, strung with small pearls, even with onyx or crystal, is very smart, and is designed especially to carry out the color scheme in question.

The importance of novelty chains and necklaces can hardly be overestimated.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 30 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver. Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil. No griping in the "knots" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 50c, etc.

CARNEGIE GRANTS TOTAL $2,000,000 DURING YEAR

New York.—Grants totaling $2,000,000 for the advancement of education were made by the Carnegie Corporation of New York during the fiscal year ended September 30. President Frederick P. Keppel announced in his annual report. In addition to this amount, President Keppel reported that payment of $1,000,000 was made during the year on grants voted in previous years.

"Educational foundations do more than endow colleges and make educational studies," said Mr. Keppel, who pointed out that the Carnegie corporation aids in the diffusion of knowledge as well as in the advancement of knowledge among the people of the United States. While the corporation issues a few publications of its own, he said that within the last four years the publication of some 250 books and of more than 600 magazine articles was the result wholly or in part of appropriations from the corporation.

Subject matter of these articles, he said, ranged from atomic structure to legal aid, from biology to geophysics and from British coal mining to floor making.

The list of appropriations show that $331,000 during the year went to educational studies, research and publications and amounts ranging from $500 to $50,000 for research and study in history, teaching, graduate instruction, vitamins, theory of surfaces, earthquakes, insulin, animal organizations, modern language, adult education and fine arts.

The library interests of the corporation are being largely cared for by grants made in former years. Mr. Keppel reported, the corporation appropriating only $8,000 in 1927 chiefly for the maintenance of library schools.

Court Upholds Right to Rely on Prayer

Prayer is a right which cannot be taken away from the citizen, the court has held in a decision handed down today by the United States Supreme Court in a case involving a public school teacher who had refused to recite the Lord's Prayer in the classroom.

The teacher, Miss Margaret Chase, was charged with disobedience of the law after a state policeman testified that she had refused to recite the prayer with the children in the classroom.

In his opinion, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes said that the teacher should not be punished for her refusal to recite the prayer with the children. He said that the teacher's duty was to teach the children the principles of the religion of their parents, and that the state had no right to interfere with this duty.

Sisters over the skin

KIPLING'S famous "Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady," who were "sisters under the skin," are sisters over the skin as well in these days when the latest and most authoritative fashion news is available to every woman in the advertising columns of her newspaper.

Today no woman's clothes need proclaim the thickness of her pocketbook. The advertisements which meet the eye of the woman accustomed to social secretaries and liveried chauffeurs, and guide her in her selection of a wardrobe—likewise greet and guide the young lady who earns her own living. And both may be thankful that advertising has forever banished the dowdy, frumpy "female."

Where will the waistline be? Bows at the cuffs, or not? "V" neck or square? How long—or how short? What materials does Paris favor? What colors are "being worn"? Those questions are answered for everyone—in the advertisements. And with the answers are coupled the names of manufacturers and merchants who make and sell materials, trimmings, accessories, on which you can rely. For those advertised names are advertised only because they are reliable. Otherwise you would probably never hear of them.

You can follow the advertised styles with assurance—and buy by advertised names with profit.

Use FREEMAN advertising regularly and conservatively and results will surely follow.

Old Paintings Throw

Light on Indian Life

Six paintings of American Indians made in the 1730's and forgotten for 200 years have been given to the world in reproduction for the first time in a publication, released from the Smithsonian Institution. They are drawings of the life and culture of the Indians of Lower Louisiana made between the years 1732-35, by A. DeBatz, a Frenchman, presumably an architect or an engineer. The drawings are the earliest known to have been made in Lower Louisiana, and they are likewise believed to be the oldest pictures existing of members of the Acadians, Atapapa, Choctaw, Fox, Illinois and Tensas tribes. The paper has turned yellow with age, but the colors remain clear and bright, and many details are shown with great exactness. The sketches yield an astonishing quantity of information on the clothing, habitations, temples, fighting activities, games and domestic animals of the Indians around the Mississippi. Though crude, they are very graphic and prove DeBatz to have been a careful observer interested in the customs of the Indians.

THEY ALL BURN HUDSON VALLEY COKE!

Albany business men are enthusiastic in their response to HUDSON VALLEY COKE as a superior economical fuel for large heating systems. Good news flies fast and sales in Albany the second year this coke was marketed there increased 100% April to November, 1927 over the same period in 1926. The same qualities that recommend Hudson Valley Coke for large heaters make it a superior fuel for household use—maximum heat with minimum waste, dependable, economical and clean.

Take a Look at Your Tongue

If you aren't feeling just right, go to the mirror and look at your tongue. If it's coated, red, sore, or if you can't get your tongue out easily, you're not working properly. That's just sign. Better get a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and give your system a thorough cleaning. Many thousands of sufferers from all kinds of digestive ailments have written us that Chamberlain's Tablets have revived them.

Here, for example, is a letter from Mr. Joseph Smith, of 513 Somerset St., Worcester, N. J.: "Nothing I ate built me up and I was fast getting to the point where I'd have to quit work. Chamberlain's Tablets have given me a new stomach, and put pep and energy into me."

That coated tongue tells you why the least exertion tires you out, why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach and drowsiness; why you have no appetite and can't sleep. Try Chamberlain's Tablets. The cost is less than 2c a dose.

Chamberlain's Tablets contain no mineral drugs. It's made of herbs, roots and fruits—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

IS MAX L. REBEN LUCKY OR IS THERE A REASON?

Many have been wondering with some interest the career of Max L. Reben ever since he came to Kingston about seven years ago. It was Mr. Reben, who advised Harry Barth, president of L. Barth & Son, to locate a branch factory in this city and as a result the old Peckham plant was acquired and in the past seven years more than $1,000,000 in wages has been paid to Kingston employees of this plant. Besides a considerable sum was spent with local merchants, builders, plumbers, electricians and other trades. The late Mayor Morris Rieck recognized Mr. Reben's ability that he considered would be useful to the city of Kingston and in 1924 appointed him a commissioner of the Board of Water Supply where due to his knowledge of contracts he has saved the city many thousands of dollars. Judge Joseph M. Fowler in 1925 appointed Mr. Reben a Commissioner of the Board of Child Welfare for Ulster county where he has served faithfully and at a meeting of this board in December, 1927, he was elected vice-chairman. For the past four years Mr. Reben has served as Treasurer for the Home Service Fund of the Salvation Army. In 1927 Congregation Emanuel elected him as President and he has served his temple in this capacity to date.

He was president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce during 1927, and a great deal of construction work was accomplished by the chamber during his administration. He officiated at the opening exercises of The Governor Clinton Hotel to the public. He was on the executive committee from the very inception of the hotel project and personally sold a large part of the original stock. In the summer of 1928 he was chairman of the campaign that made the Broadway Theatre possible and Harry Lazarus has frequently expressed his indebtedness for the help he received from Mr. Reben.

In January, 1927, Mr. Reben was offered the Vice-Presidency of The Lordland Refrigerator Company at a substantial salary with the understanding that he was expected to move to New York city. This opportunity he declined, preferring to remain in Kingston, and in May, 1927, he resigned to become the local representative of Arthur Atkins & Company, investment bankers. The first two weeks of his own he gave to the Y. M. C. A. drive, acting as major of the Make Hay Division, which division obtained 372 subscriptions for a total of $6,203.36, which was the second largest amount obtained, and in his division was the winning team of the campaign headed by Captain Gordon Craig.

His success since he has been in business for himself is equally worthy of mention, as will be observed by some of the issues he offered the public. United States Freight then selling at $7.0 a share has since been split up two shares for one, each share selling at $4.75 and now about 78, an increase of approximately 130 per cent in eight months.

Financial Investing Co. of N. Y., Ltd., then offered at $20 a share, now $25.25, and has in the meantime increased its dividend and given valuable rights so that about $5 per cent has been earned on original investments.

Universal Insurance Company of New York, N. Y., stock offered in an advertisement of The Freeman during December, 1927, at $46 a share is now offered at $56 a share and a dividend at rate of $2.50 a share has just been declared. At the same time Arthur Atkins advised the purchase of Standard Insurance stock at $22.50 a share and today $31.00 is asked for the same.

Mr. Reben has recommended Pack-Hatch Participating Preferred Stock at about $21 a share, returning over eight per cent on the investment. Pack-Hatch has since gone into a $46,000,000 currency combine. Solvay, International Stores, Ltd., selling from $16.00 to $22.50 a share was also recommended. He is also recommending from time to time other investments which he advertises in The Freeman.

It was Mr. Reben who purchased the lot on the corner of Smith avenue and Grand street for the new factory of Shapiro & Rubin and turned the same over to the factory corporation at cost without charging any profit on his investment or interest, although he had to hold the lot for over 90 days. He sold the $25,000 of second mortgage bonds that made the factory building possible.

Mr. Reben was chairman of the Booster Committee of Kingston Kapers and it is whispered that he was intimately acquainted with one of the bathing beauties and it is known how successful Kibano Kapers proved.

A little human interest story is going the rounds at present regarding one of the men who worked faithfully on a real estate development in which Mr. Reben is engaged. When cold weather came this man explained that he had experience in selling fish, vegetables and fruit and as a result the Central Fish and Vegetable Market will soon open at 730 Broadway. Mr. Reben states that this man had experience in selling shoes, dresses, or any other line he would have started that kind of business as he wished to recognize the faithful service of Chaucer's Coumbes who will manage the Central Fish and Vegetable Market.

Is Max L. Reben lucky or does hard conscientious work bring these results?

It is he discriminating about the securities he advertises in the columns of The Freeman.

It is said that Bonaparte, also that Henry Ford, only wanted lucky men around them. Perhaps this luck of Max L. Reben accounts for the clients he has today.

Beds of Clay Reveal the Passage of Time

Geologists can follow the tracks of the sun and tell the time, year by year, in geological ages—so ancient that even by millions of years they are hard to count.

Not far from Stockholm there are some remarkable beds of clay, regularly arranged in alternating bands of sand and clay. These turn out to be the layers deposited by the melting glaciers of the Ice age, each one laid down in the spring and summer when the sun was hottest. And as there was a freeze-up each winter and melting each summer, the layers become almost as accurate an index to the antiquity of the Ice age as the annual rings of a tree are to the age of the tree.

Moreover, the same system of measuring geological time has now been extended over all Scandinavia, and parts of India and South America. Everywhere the layers appear to correspond so closely in the variations of their thickness, year by year, that there seems no doubt they were laid down in corresponding years.—Baron Gerard de Geer.

Great Educators

The ten greatest educators of the last two centuries, according to Doctor Eliot's list, put forth in 1925, were Horace Mann, Adam Smith, William Ellery Channing, Michael Faraday, Ralph Waldo Emerson, John Stuart Mill, Charles Darwin, Herbert Spencer, Louis Pasteur and Joseph Ernest Renan.

Doctor Eliot also suggested, as the ten greatest educators of all time, Aristotle, John Locke, Francis Bacon, Immanuel Kant, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Claudius Galen, Isaac Newton, John Milton, William Shakespeare and Leonardo da Vinci.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Daylight reception Sunday was perfect until late afternoon, when WJZ began to distort, as usual. WGY got through the fly screen program in the early evening all right and part way through the Capitol Theatre before it began to snarl. It was clear on more than half of the Atwater Kent program. WOR was unusually good. Southern stations, WSR, WRAP, WSM, WJAX and others, were exceptionally strong and clear.

During the 11 minutes that all Atlantic coast stations were silent Saturday evening because of an SOS call there was ample proof that the principal thing the matter with radio is too many stations on the air. With a great number of stations silent it was easy to tune in WOC, WDAY and WJAX and receive them with perfect clarity. It is this clearing away of stations that makes it possible to receive distant stations late at night. Sunday night for instance, the only thing in the way of receiving KFI was the activity of WRU. KFI was present in the form of interference with WRU at 10 o'clock. The commission's notion that two powerful stations can safely be assigned the same wave length and will not interfere because they are the work of the consistent apart is nonsense and greatly detracts from the usefulness of both stations. The silencing of at least 560 stations is the only thing that will restore really good reception.

A buzz began Saturday evening at 5:20 and lasted until 6:30. While it lasted it was a hindrance. Assisted by the Atwater Kent Orchestra and a double quart of male voices, Anna Case will on Sunday, January 22, celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the beginning of her 103 Million in Illegal Taxes Refunded by U. S.

Washington.—Refunding of illegally collected taxes totaling $108,888,887 and affecting approximately 240,000 persons was reported to congress by Secretary Mellon.

The Treasury department's report covered 12,132 typewritten pages and included refunds from 1 cent into the millions of dollars. Secretary Mellon said the credits covered the years 1922 back to 1925, inclusive, and "prior years."

Refunds made for 1925 amounted to $68,888,887. For 1927 they totaled $4,751,000, for 1926 they were $8,469,100, and for 1925 they were $69,322.

Congress at its last session appropriated money to provide for the repayments by the treasury.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 23.—Stock markets gave an impressive indication of strength in today's market. Liquidity of the call money market rose to 3 1/2 per cent, the lowest opening figure since last November, and the favorable character of the market and trade reviews helped to create a bullish sentiment, and inspired a resumption of pool activity on a large scale.

A steel common crossed 14 1/2 to a new high on the current upturn. Motors responded to reports of increasing sales of the new models, with Hupmobile again in the leadership of the advance. Some of the sharpest gains were recorded in the manufacturing group.
In the utilities also swung upward in brisk fashion.
Trading which had been rather dull, for the greater part of last week, showed a marked increase in volume. Several blocks of 2,000 to 11,000 shares changed hands during the session. Bull moved forward with the industrials.

Berrier, Poughkeepsie musician and former employee of the Hudson

It was testified that Mr. Berrier with a woman who was not his wife, and this proved sufficient grounds for the issuance of the decree. Next-day H. Fessenden appeared for Mrs.

IN LINCOLN'S DAY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

IN LINCOLN'S day men lived, or millions of them.

With face, old-fashioned beaver in their hats.

We read their records now, and learn to love them.

As down the ages Lincoln's day departs.

For many then found living simply,
sincerely.

The true contentment and the wisdom way.

Yes, often wealth lived quietly and piously.

However much it made, in Lincoln's day.

In Lincoln's day then millions sought the churches.

On Sunday morning seeking truth and light.

Laid bare their hearts, the hearts that heaven searches.

Asked God to judge them and to set their right.

Oh, there were millions then, the high,
the lowly.

Who felt the need to ask, the need to pray.

The need of something higher, something holy.

To help them live their lives in Lincoln's day.

Yes, Lincoln's day had many gentle mothers.

And many sons, and daughters good to see.

Now time moves on. Thank God, each time has others.

Good men and women as could ever be.

The only few may live their lives unsightly.

May just at God, and jazz the hours away.

But there are many millions living rightly.

Just as there were, my friends, in Lincoln's day.

THE WHY OF SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

SPINNING A KNIFE

IT IS to be hoped that no one who reads these articles will be guilty of such a breach of table etiquette as to spin a knife around at table. Yet if anyone should so far forget himself as to do such a thing let him be sure and spin the knife back again in a reverse direction or he will have bad luck. This superstition is one of which the essential and explanatory part has dropped out, in the course of the centuries.

The key to it is found in the folklore of some remote English districts where the superstition reads that if the knife is spun from right to left it must at once be spun backward from left to right. That is if it is spun "against the sun" it must be spun back "with the sun"—in the direction of the movements of the hands of a clock. This makes the whole thing clear—the superstition is a remnant of sun-worship. The movement from left to right is in conformity with the apparent course of the sun and was called the "ceremonial circuit."

Thus did the Egyptian priests move in procession, worshipping the sun-god, Ra, when Memnon's statue sang to the rising day by the shores of the Nile. To reverse this sacred, ceremonial circuit would, of course, be a sacrilege sure to be punished by the offended sun-god, unless amends were quickly made by resuming the ordained sunwise order of movement. So the current superstition regarding knife twirling should run. If at table you should, through forgetfulness, twirl your knife from right to left be sure and twirl it back again from left to right, or sunwise, or bad luck will get you.

Churchly Match

In England the passion for cricket holds men much longer than the passion for baseball clings to Americans, so that persons in all walks of life continue to play even past middle age.
Hence the perfectly plausible story printed about the small daughter of a vicar who was asked by a visitor:
"Is your father at home, Kathleen?"
"No, daddy's gone to play in the match, George against Deily."

Greetings!

Two motorists collided. One overturned in the road, while the other ran into a hedge. From the hedge came a voice, "Road hog!" From the road the other shouted, "Hedge hog!"—

Champion Walker At Armory Bouts

George Brown, champion walker of the world, will appear tonight at the armory. Mr. Brown will be in-

Used Flour Sack Makes Convenient Laundry Bag

Laundry bags need washing almost as frequently as the soiled clothes which they are to hold. A new-style bag which has many good points over the old drawing variety is made of a material which can be washed or even boiled. They are so inexpensive to make that there is no reason why every member of the family should not have his own bag. In fact they cost but a few cents apiece since they

Laundry Bag Can Be Made From Old Flour Sack.

are made out of used flour bags which almost any baker will sell you.
First rip the bag and then cover the inked spots with lard or gunk them overnight in kerosene. By morning the stamping can be easily washed out in lukewarm water. Then fold the goods in half, and make a slash in front through which to put in the soiled articles. The bag is emptied by simply unfastening the flap at the bottom. The top of the bag has a leading and a casing in which is run a small wooden slot or rod which can be slipped out for washing. The sides of the bag and the slash are bound with some bright-colored bra-id tape. Use a different color for each bag. The word "Laundry" may be cross-stitched on the flap or the initials of the owner.

Another satisfactory kind of personal laundry bag to be made out of a used flour sack has the usual drawstring top, but with a 12-inch strip across the bottom of any side. Stitched down the middle, this makes two extra pockets, one for stockings and one for handkerchiefs. This saves a lot of sorting when wash day comes around.

Embroidered Frock Is Evening Mode in Paris

The evening dress which owes its charm to a bit of well-worked embroidery is an important one in the Parisian winter collections.
Nearly every house of importance shows one or more of these frocks, which, because of their costliness and the impossibility of imitating them successfully, are among the most distinguished of the season.

There are several ways of using the embroidery, but all of them are simple, such as a spray of flowers embroidered on the shoulder, at the hip, at the point of a décolleté. Bands of Chinese embroidery also figure.
